

Baseball Bat Victim Sues.

A head injury which he said resulted from a blow from a baseball bat wielded when he tried to stop a quarrel between two men in the Rainbow Tavern, 1521 Central Ave., was the basis for a $50,000 damage suit filed in Common Pleas Court by James J. Rogers, 1807 Central Ave. The suit is against John S. Showalter, 2628 Hackberry St., restaurant operator. Rogers's suit charges that he was trying to prevent a cutting when he was hit.

Clipped By:

genealogy4005

Wed, Feb 26, 2020